VALUE GIVING

To That More Than to Any Other One Thing Is Due
This Store's Wonderful Success.

This business has been built very largely upon the basis of value giving—not so much low prices as merit in the merchandise. We believe in superiority of style, of materials, of tailoring, of fit—all these first, and then closer margins of profit in our selling prices, constitute real value giving.

Suits and Overcoats $10, $12, $15, $18, $20 & $25

Yale Merchants Are Prepared for Big Holiday Trade

Holiday stocks are already beginning to be shown by our merchants, who in preparing for the needs of the time, have prepared wisely and well, splendid big stocks of goods in different lines, and he or she is thoroughly wise who will look over and select holiday gifts while the stocks are new and fresh and the lines are complete. This will result in complete satisfaction to the buyer and seller.

The buying of Christmas gifts will not become such a "bete noire" weariness and disgust will not be your portion, but happiness and contentment will be yours, as they should be at the happy Christmas time.

Each week from now you should look over the columns of the Expositor for the advertisements. The merchants want your trade and they announce their offers in the best possible manner. Carefully make note of the various articles, then make haste to the store and avail yourself of the excellent suggestions given you.

DEATH'S DOINGS

Mrs. John Jordan, of Greenwood township, St. Clair county, died Dec. 1, 1911, aged 73 years.

Mrs. Jordan was born in Co. Carey, Ireland, in the year 1838 and was one of the early pioneers and is survived by the following children:—Mrs. James Clark, Greenwood; Mrs. W. J. Smith, Port Huron; Mrs. Asa Russell, Detroit; Mrs. Chas. Elbert, Saginaw; Mrs. Levi Soule, Sterling; Henry W. Jordan, Sevi, Inaw, and Geo. Jordan, and Mrs. A. E. Jackson, Yale.

Deceased has resided on place where she died for 55 years.

The children of Mrs. John Jordan wish to thank all friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness shown during the sickness and after the death of their beloved mother.

The undersigned want 10 or 12 bean pickers at once. Middleton & Doelle, Yale.

Yale's Side of the Story.

It is indeed unfortunate that any accident or mistake should occur to mar the friendly relations existing between the athletic teams representing Yale and Marlette high schools. It has always been the aim of the local authorities to give visiting teams a hearty welcome and a square deal, and no unbiased person who witnessed the football game between Yale and Marlette can truthfully say that the Marlette team was tendered such an "unsquare" deal as the awful wall from our neighboring press would have its readers believe. It is our frank opinion that the report of the contest was badly distorted after leaving the hands of the Marlette faculty, for a more fair minded man than Mr. Magee could not be desired.

However, we offer our apology for the one unsportsmanlike assault which occurred at the instance of one of the local spectators. We very much regret this feature as it was not at all representative of the feeling existing on the field, in spite of the keen rivalry, and hope that such an accident may never happen again.

During the entire game there was not a single complaint entered concerning any interference of the crowd with the linesman's apparatus and Marlette had their own linesman, field judge, time-keeper and official who refereed one half of the game and umpired the other half. Certainly any such interference would have been detected by Marlette's officials if it had actually occurred. Marlette's penalties were all perfectly justified, and if Yale was guilty of more infractions of the rules than they were penalized for, then the Marlette officials were equally at fault with the Yale officials in failing to enforce the rules. Whenever any dispute occurred among the officials, appeal was always made to the faculty representatives of the two schools and their decision taken as final.

After talking with many accepted authorities on the intricacies of the football rules we are unable to fathom the mystery whereby our opponents were able to make a touchdown on a triple pass when Yale was in possession of the ball at the time in question. The truth of the matter is that when the Yale quarterback made a forward pass a Marlette linesman broke through, knocked the ball to the ground, recovered it and ran over the goal line. After consulting with Mr. Magee, the Marlette faculty representative, and Mr. Gleason, the umpire, the referee, not arbitrarily but with their concurrence and consent, declared that the play was governed by Rule XIX, Sec. 4, and the Yale team was penalized accordingly.

Accidental errors in rulings and construction of the rules may have been made, but the local high school authorities do not see it to shoulder all of the responsibility, as all matters in dispute were invariably referred to the visiting officials and the superintendents of the two schools and a final ruling made only after they had reached an agreement.

We do not publish this justification for the purpose of continuing any possible controversy, but expressly for the purpose of assuring the public in general and especially our Marlette friends that we never have and never will knowingly attempt to take unfair advantage of their athletic teams.

Dr. Paterson Taken by Death.

Dr. Duncan Paterson, one of St. Clair county's most prominent physicians, passed away Saturday morning, Dec. 2, as the result of neuralgia of the heart. He had not been feeling well for several days but was not forced to take to his bed until Friday last.

Dr. Paterson was born in West Williams, Ont., in 1852, and was reared as a farmer. He attended college at Kemptville, graduating in 1872. Later he attended Strathroy high school in Ontario for nine months in 1873. In the interval between those two periods he taught school in the Canadian district and city schools, meantime studying medicine.

In 1875, he commenced a regular course of medical studies in the State University, graduating in 1877. During the vacations he attended London hospital, London, Ont.

Immediately following his graduation, Dr. Paterson moved to Capac, and determined to practice his profession. During the 34 years in which he had been engaged in the practice of medicine in that village and vicinity, he built up an enviable practice.

Dr. Paterson was a brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Parkinson, of Yale and was very well known here, having made many visits in this community. The funeral services were held on Monday afternoon from the home, being conducted by the Masonic order, of which he was a member. W. A. Cavanaugh and Jas. Stirling were attendants of the services from Yale, besides Mr. and Mrs. Parkinson and son Thomas.

Farm Dwelling Burned

The dwelling house on the farm of E. J. Rice burned to the ground last Saturday afternoon at about 5 o'clock. It is supposed that the fire started from an overturned lamp which was upset by a cat that was in the house at the time. The family were at the barn doing the chores. On returning to the house it was all ablaze and it was with difficulty that what furniture in the lower part was saved. Loss fully covered by insurance.

It is rather an undesirable time of the year to be turned out of house and home, but Mrs. Todd, who is a nearby neighbor, came to the family's rescue and gave up rooms in her home which they are now occupying.

Miss Simington is prepared to take sewing by the day. Call at the residence of Warren Roadway. 33-2
